PREFACE

N. S. S. Training College, Ottapalam is one of the scores of educational institutions, ranging from elementary schools to Grade I colleges, owned and managed by Nair Service Society. Nair Service Society, a registered charitable society, was founded in the year 1914 by late Mannath Padmanabhan, the legendary social reformer, educationist and visionary. Today, its organs or units sprawl from one end of the state to the other, and even beyond the boundaries of the state playing pivotal role in the social transformation of the state by means of the mighty tool of wide-spread education.

Most of the N. S.S. Educational institutions are in remote villages, that would ever have remained obscure and unawakened had it not been for the temples of learning, N.S.S. chose to establish in these areas. Chroniclers have never been slow or hesitant in acknowledging the signal role these institutions have been playing as agents of speedy progress and change with its motto 'Education for all'.

The crying need for a College of Teacher Education in Palakkad District struck Mannath Padmanabhan as early as 1960, a time when such a college was absent in the entire area. Aspiring students of Education, therefore, had to move to places far from their homes, and the result was that trained teachers were hard to come by. Often schools had to recruit untrained teachers which affected adversely the standards of teaching and learning in the schools.

Comparatively women were the worst affected in the absence of teacher education facilities near their homes. Though there were plenty of girl's schools in the area, the number of women teachers available was fewer. The opening of the institution was boon for the women who aspired for the profession of teaching. This institution has paved for them the way to empower themselves with greater educational attainments. Thus the role that this institution has played in the development and empowerment of the women community of the state is a vital and pioneering one.

Ottapalam stands on the banks of Nila, the river that meanders through the whole of South Malabar Districts of Thrissur, Malappuram and Palakkad and it epitomizes the rich age old culture of Valluvanad, a geographical area that still stands untouched by the pathetic aftermaths of mindless industrial growth and wanton commercial exploitation. A paradise marked by pure serene idyllic charm, Ottapalam is also known for top diplomats like Mr. K. P. S. Menon, scientists like Dr. M.G.K. Menon and legal luminaries and statesmen like Mr. Chettur Sankaran Nair and Mr. V. P. Menon. The very high standards of education the area maintained justified the founder's plan to set up an institution of teacher's training here.

N. S. S. Training College had indeed modest beginnings as in the case of many of the great institution that we see today. It was opened in 1960, in the premises of NSSKPT High School with eighty students and three teachers, one of whom was the principal. Two years later, the college was shifted to a nearby two storey building specially built for the college. Then its student strength was hundred. In 1965, it catered to a 150 students, and in 35 years, its strength had doubled to reach 300. It now imparts teacher training in half a dozen disciplines with 24 teachers on its faculty excluding the principal.

In the development of infrastructure, UGC came to its help in 1976-77 and the administrative block in two storeys was the result. The management built up another three storey block to accommodate the increase in number of students in 1995. After that an open air auditorium cum lecture hall complex in two storeys was built up, wholly funded by the management. A double storey building for M. Ed department and a new computer lab was also completed in 2013 in the premises with the financial aid of UGC.

Another milestone in the growth of the college was the commencement of M.Ed courses in 1995, which raised the status of the college to a full fledged institution of teacher education. Now the strength of M. Ed students is raised from 10 to 25 from 2010 onwards last year it is increased to 50. With a total strength of 325 (+50(Bed)+50(Med) of Two year batch), and 35 staff on the rolls, this institution today has substantial merit and mettle as the facts furnished in the report substantiate.

The college was established in 1960 and was affiliated to the University of Calicut. To start with, it imparted instruction for the one year B. Ed degree course with 50 students on the rolls. In 1995, the college was upgraded to a postgraduate college with M. Ed course. The golden jubilee year of the college was on 2012.

At present, the institution offers B. Ed courses in six subjects viz., Malayalam, English, Physical Science, Natural Science, Mathematics, and Social Science, with a total sanctioned strength of 300 students. Now when 2 year curriculum is implemented the sanctioned strength for B Ed is reduced to 50 but in this year Government increased the strength to 100. The college also offers instruction for the degree of master of education and the sanctioned strength of this course is 50. With this strength of 325 (+50+50 of 2 year batch) students in its rolls, the institution is recognised as the biggest college of teacher education in the state.

The college is modelled on residential pattern and this offers adequate opportunities of curricular and extracurricular activities for the mental as well as spiritual development of the students. The special concern of the college for the moral standards of the students is well evidenced by the spiritual discourses held occasionally in the college. These discourses have undoubtedly enriched the personal as well as social identity of the students.

The college and its hostels are open to all castes and creeds and provide amenities for the creation of a healthy cosmopolitan atmosphere in the campus.

INTRODUCTION

The Nair Service Society, a synonym for selfless service and Social commitment was founded by the late Sri. Mannathu Padmanabhan on 31-10-1914. Now the Nair Service Society has completed hundred years of its existence. The society has a great mission of educational advancement, the Nair community instituted various categories of educational institutions with the whole hearted support from community members all over Kerala. With an amazing network of units at the village and taluk levels, the Nair Service Society has evolved in to a well-knit and coherent organization that has never served from the noble ideals and high principles of the founder. The society runs more than a hundred of Schools, Fifteen Arts and Science Colleges, Three Training Colleges, 1 Engineering College, 1 Homeo Medical College, Several Nursing Colleges, Polytechnic College, TTC Schools, Working Women's Hostels and Technical institutions. NSS Training College, Ottapalam was started in 1960 with the main intention of providing teacher training facility to the Malabar region of Kerala. Throughout these years, our institution has been accomplishing the task of professional excellence through empowering transformation. Our college was accredited with B++ grade by the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) in 2005. The college was reaccredited with A grade (CGPA 3.36) in Sept 2016.

The staff council of our college decided to constitute an Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) giving due representation to the management, educational experts from the neighbourhood, alumni members, well wishers, and staff members of the institution. The IQAC scrutinized the NAAC report and previous years IQAC report thoroughly and identified the strong and weak areas to be resolved. Every year the IQAC report is sent to NAAC by resolving the noted areas on priority. In 2013-14, the cell decided to pursue all the best practices which were highlighted by the NAAC team and the action plan by 2012-13 IQAC report, have a critical assessment on the comments on weak areas. A programme of action was chalked out in order to strengthen the aspects which require special attention and to implement these programmes with immediate effect.

With immense pleasure and gratitude, we take this opportunity to acknowledge the dedicated efforts, support and cooperation rendered by the educational experts, the management, Parent Teacher Association, Alumni, the staff and students of our college and all well-wishers who helped us directly or indirectly for the successful completion of the report.
